

FNCE[®] 2022

Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo[™]

Orlando, FL | October 8-11

DHCC will be hosting a pre-conference workshop on Saturday October 8th

- S & S Nutrition is helping to plan the workshop
- $harpen your skills, $trengthen your impact
 - This hands on session will provide the attendee invaluable education on how nutrition components can impact PDPM and the bottom line
 - NFPE, Speech therapy components, Obesity, Enteral/IV Feedings
- ~4-5 hour workshop
- Moderated by Sue Linja
 - Speakers include an RD (Ellen), MDS Coordinator and ST
- We would love to see our S & S Nutrition RDS in Orlando!!
 - S & S will be giving out $1000 scholarships to help pay for expenses

Continuing Education Opportunities

		About Coram Contact us Pay bill Search
Why choose us What to expect FAQs Resource center Billing and supplies
04/12/2022	Organ Donation: Understanding the Gift	CCM (1.0), CEPTC (1.0), RD (1.0), RN (1.0)	Transplant ▼
04/20/2022	Ethics in Nutrition Support	CCM (1.0), RD (1.0), RN (1.0)	Nutrition ▼
05/18/2022	The Nuts and Bolts of Enteral Nutrition	CCM (1.0), RD (1.0), RN (1.0)	Nutrition ▼
06/15/2022	Nutritional Issues & Crohn's Disease	CCM (1.0), RD (1.0), RN (1.0)	Nutrition ▼
07/20/2022	Choosing Wisely: Access Device Selection in Tube Feeding	CCM (1.0), RD (1.0), RN (1.0)	Nutrition ▼

<https://www.coramhc.com/providers/webinars>

LIVE WEBINARS

Fermented Foods and Health: Does Today's Science Support Yesterday's Tradition?

- Sponsored by ISAPP, the International Scientific Association for Probiotics and Prebiotics
- Accreditation: Mary Ellen Sanders was approved by the CDR to offer 1.0 CPEU for this webinar
- Presented by Hannah Holscher, PhD, RD, and Jennifer Burton, MS, RD, LDN
- Presented on Wednesday, April 20, 2022, from 2-3 p.m. EDT

<https://ce.todaysdietitian.com/FreeCE>